The Church Militant.

At the meeting of the Baptist pastors in New York yesterday, Rev. A. C. Dixon had a lively tilt with the Rev. W. C. Bittling, of the Mount Morris Baptist Church.

Mr. Bittling read a paper, "Paul and the Parousia." The reader said that in the first two groups of the Apostles' letters it was clear that he expected the second coming of Christ to take place during his lifetime. He urged ecclasiacy, saying that only single men and women could devote themselves to the work of God.

In the second two groups of the Apostles' letters, however, there was no warning against marriage, and Paul seemed to regard the time of the second coming of Christ as indefinite. It was because of this latter view that Paul changed his view of matrimony and advocated the family relation.

Some of the pastors criticized Mr. Bittling's paper rather severely. The Rev. A. C. Dixon was among this number.

Mr. Bittling, in reply to the criticisms, said that he would not be bulldozed by anyone. Every one had a right to the dictates of his own conscience. These were the facts as Paul had written them, and he had written one thing at one time and another at another and that was all there was to it.

Mr. Bittling said that such discussions were proper for the association, and that no one should allow himself to be carried away so that he could not calmly hear the arguments of another. The Baltimore Baptist, he said, had recently abused personally some Baptist clergymen for expressing their views, and he believed the article was malicious and unchristianlike.

Rev. C. C. Dixon jumped up and began a sarcastic attack upon Mr. Bittling. There were cries of "order, order," and motions to adjourn were made. It was evident that some of the ministers feared that there might be trouble, but Mr. Dixon would not let down until he had denied writing the article referred to by Mr. Bittling.

The matter was finally ended by Mr. Thomas Dixon saying that he knew that his brother had not written the article attacking certain clergymen. Mr. Bittling then withdrew his charges.

[Mr. Bittling is a son of Rev. A. C. Bittling and formerly lived in this city.]

CARE OF THE EYES.—Never rub your eyes, nor allow your children to do so from their cradles. Veils are bad for the sight, especially those spotted or covered with a pattern—so eschew veils when you can, or wear the softest, clearest net when you are obliged to do so. Never read in bed or when lying on a sofa. Sit with the back to the light when engaged in reading or working. Pale blues or greens are the most restful wall papers for the eyes, whereas red is exceedingly fatiguing. Do not read, write or work longer than two hours together without resting your eyes and closing them fully five minutes. Be most careful to live in a dry house, on dry soil; attend to the digestion, for did not Milton declare his blindness to proceed from the effects of dyspepsia? If the eyes be weak bathe them in a basin of soft water to which a pinch of table-salt and a dessertspoonful of brandy have been added.

EMPTY BOOM TOWNS.—There are twenty well-built towns in Kansas without a single inhabitant to waken the echoes of their deserted streets. Saratoga has a thirty-thousand-dollar opera house, a large brick hotel, a twenty-thousand-dollar school house and a number of fine business houses, and yet there is nobody to even claim a place to sleep. At Fargo a twenty-thousand-dollar schoolhouse stands on the side of the hill, a monument to the bond-voting craze. A herder and his family are the sole population of what was once an incorporated city. This is a sad commentary on unhealthy booms. Those Kansas towns, like Wichita, advertised themselves as phenomenal boom cities. For awhile "everything was lovely and the goose hung high," but at last dry rot took hold on the boom towns and killed them.
